New York Fall '09

Now Presenting: Form's Dark and Stormy Fall Collection

It was all about dark and cozy designs at Form's presentation on Friday night at the Tribeca Grand Hotel. The models, on a stage with a projector set up to display photos in the background, wore long, simplified knee-length coats, cowl-neck hooded cardigans, and gray and blue patterned tights. There was no visible definition as to where the tights ended and the boots began--the pattern continued right on to the models' footwear.

On the beauty side, the models sported a reverse-French manicure on their fingertips, with a thin white shape at the bottom, and a long black tip. How very gothic!
